Surgical Gown

In your clinical practice you are routinely at risk of exposure to blood and bodily fluids. Having the right level of protection for the task at hand can make a critical difference. Halyard offers a full range of surgical gowns, each offering various levels of protection and geared towards different types of surgical procedures. With Halyard, no matter what the surgical task, our gowns have you covered.

Maximum protection – as easy as 1-2-3

Knowing that different surgical tasks require different levels of protection, Halyard uses a colour coded system so you can easily and quickly identify the right surgical gown for your immediate need.

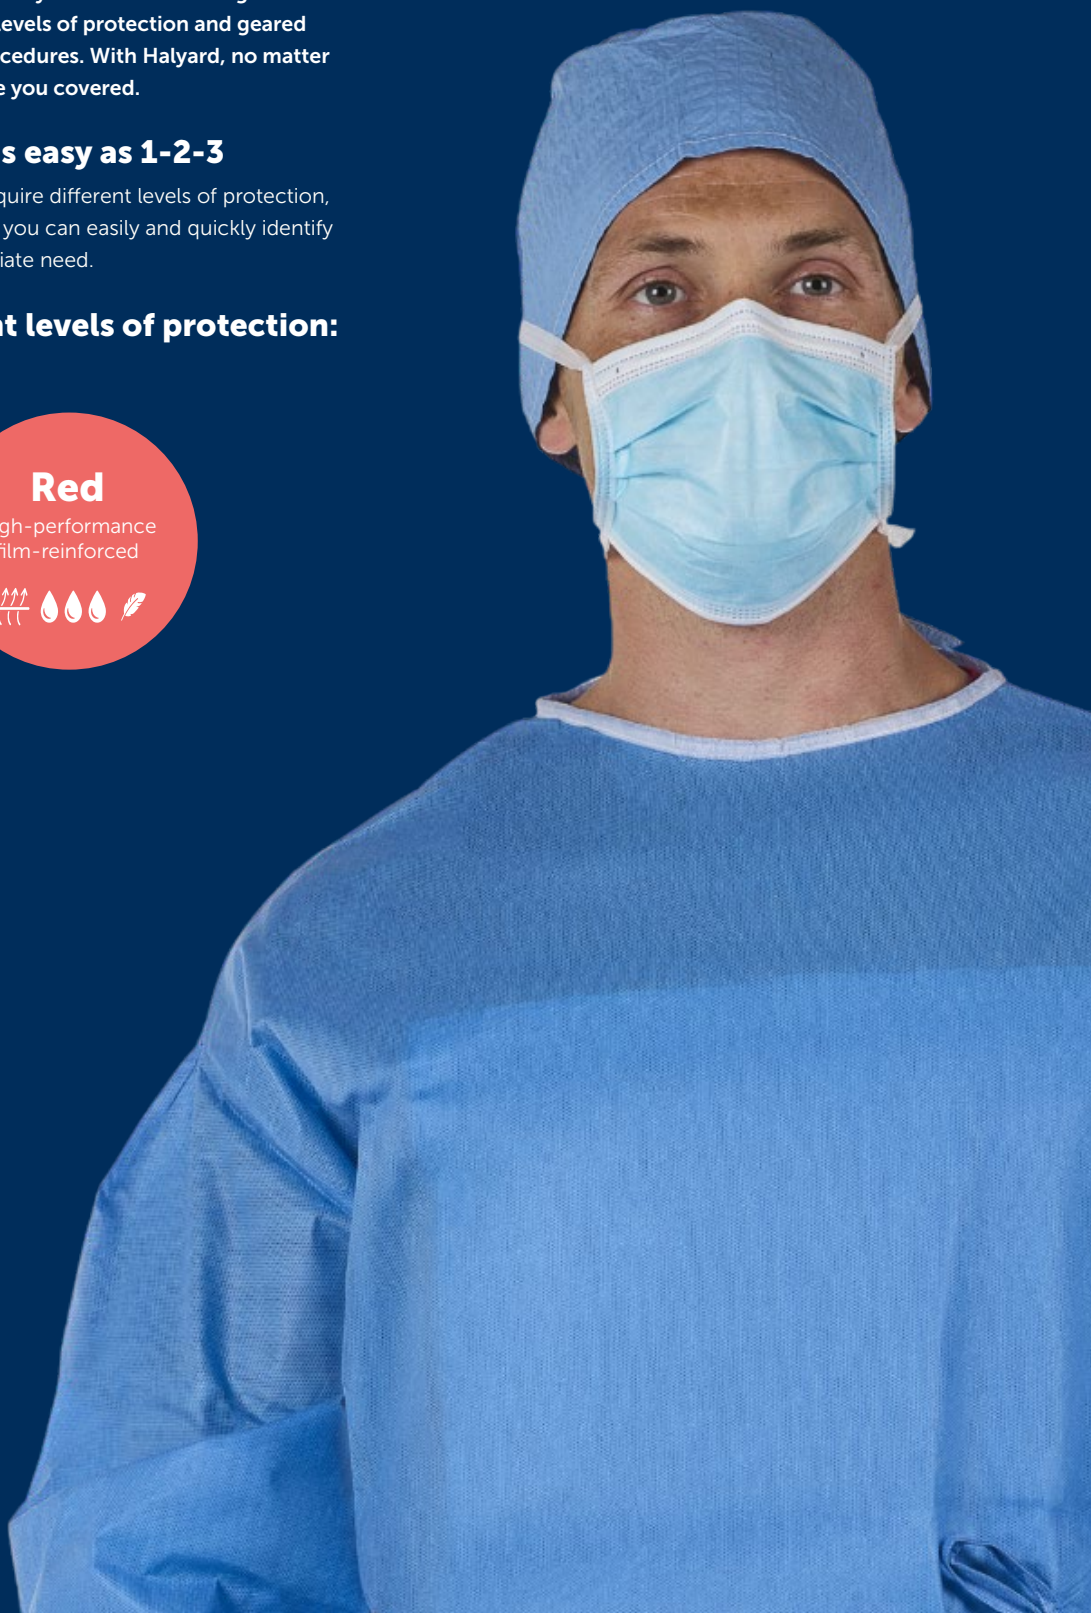

Our gowns offer different levels of protection:

Yellow
Standard performance

Red
High-performance film-reinforced
